Classes now in session

Valley college campus is open at last

LIVERMORE - The smartly dressed Livermore matron stepped out of her car into the morning sunshine and took it all in.

Four matching brown buildings, standing proud and new against a dazzling backdrop of emerald hills and yellow spring wildflowers.

The first students, making their way across the grounds, notebooks under their arms.

The woman turned to her companion. "Well," she announced, "It's too late for my kids, but it's not too late for me!"

After 12 years of planning, Chabot College's Valley campus opened yesterday.

From now on, local beginning college students will be able to take the Collier Canyon Road turnoff from Interstate 580, make a mile trip along a country road, and pull up at Chabot College, Livermore.

For the moment, at least, students may have to go to the main campus in Hayward for some of the courses less in demand. But the beginning curriculum here is varied and rich, from recreational golf and bowling lessons to basic reading and math skills.

Besides well - appointed classrooms decorated in shades of brown and gold, there is a bookshop piled high with new - smelling texts. A row of refreshment dispensing machines that will soon be moved into a student center building. A library with individual study desks. A chemistry lab gleaming with stainless steel equipment.

Yesterday's ribbon - cutting ceremony attractedabout 300 local residents, including Valley city council members, Chamber of Commerce heads, educators and students, some of whom were waiting impatiently for the ceremonies to be over so they could get to their first class.

"They said it would only disrupt one class," complained a Pleasanton mother who was returning to school for a degree in science. She was passing the time before class munching apple cake and enjoying the punch that was served after the ribbon cutting.

The local campus is starting out with accommodations for 500 day students, although only a few dozen were in evidence Monday morning. Stakes on the northeast corner of the campus mark the site of a fifth building which will increase the school's capacity to 1,000 day students by the start of the fall quarter in September.

The need for a Valley campus was forecast as long ago as 1962 in a master plan developed by Odell MacConnell Associates of Palo Alto, educational planning consultants. The Livermore - Amador Valley voters chose on Oct. 2, 1962, to annex to the South County Joint Junior College District, and the annexation became effective July 1, 1963.

The site of 147 acres off Collier Canyon Road was bought Jan. 6, 1965, for $397,500, with part of the proceeds from a 1963 bond issue that was also used to build Chabot College in Hayward.

Twice, in 1970 and 1972, tax override proposals were placed on the ballot to build a college in the Valley. Both times, the proposals carried here but were defeated by voters on the Hayward side of the district. On May 7, 1974, the Board of Trustees voted to proceed with construction of a smaller campus and awarded the contract for the first four buildings to Robert D. More Construction Co. of Burlingame.

The fifth building will be built by C.A. Gossett and Sons of Castro Valley.

Architects Delp W. Johnson, Poole and Storm, San Francisco, described their design as contemporary, based on Spanish tradition.

The $1.3 million facility was officially opened after a speech by Mrs. Ann H. Duncan of Hayward, president of the junior college district board of trustees. She called construction of Chabot's second campus "an immense act of faith" in view of the current economic uncertainty and climbing construction costs, but said it would become "a tremendous community asset."

The occasion was a momentous one for Dorothy Hudgins, the Valley's one representative on the junior college board and a resident of Livermore.

Other trustees are Charles W. Stone of San Leandro, secretary, Jay Chinn of San Leandro, James Martin of Castro Valley, Fred M. Duman of Hayward and L. Arthur Van Etten of San Lorenzo.

The staff of 40 includes 16 instructors, 20 non - teaching personnel and four administrators. Dr Barbara F. Mertes, a Livermore High graduate, dean in charge of the campus. - By Pat Kennedy

Six candidates for Amador seat

The Amador Valley Joint High School District board has six applications for the position vacated by Bert Hersevoort of Dublin...and possibly two others prominent in Dublin and Murray School District affairs.

Prospective applicants have until April 11 in which to submit a resume to Dr. Bruce Newlin, secretary to the board, Amador Valley Joint High School District, P.O. Box 130, Pleasanton.

Amador board members will review applications and announce their selection of Hersevoort's replacement at the board meeting of Tuesday, April 15 at the District Educational Center.

It is not known if any of the applicants have previous school board backgrounds. Mayo Miller, a nine-year member of the Amador board, and Douglas Dollard were the unsuccessful candidates in the election held this past March 4. Another former candidate for the Amador board, Edward Washburn, reportedly has moved to the midwest because of his position with Caterpillar. Washburn was the first runnerup in the April, 1973, election.

Two additional candidates surfaced this week when Dublin residents Ron Malfatti and Arthur Laursen told The Times they might consider applying for the vacant board position.

Malfatti is with Pacific Telephone in Oakland, working as an equipment supervisor. Active with the VCSD citizens committee for recreation and other community affairs, Malfatti is married and has three children attending schools in the Murray district. Like other possible candidates contacted, he questioned whether he would have sufficient time to devote to board business.

Laursen served for several years on the Murray board but decided not to seek reelection last month because of the press of business activities. He is associate dean of engineering at Healds College in San Francisco.

However, Laursen said he had received some school district literature which got him to thinking about school board matters once again.

He, too, expressed uncertainty on the time question.

The person appointed will serve two years and two months as Hersevoort's unexpired term runs through June of 1977.

The meeting of the 15th will also serve as the board reorganizational meeting, with Charles Beazley and Dr. Geraldine Donaldson to be sworn in to four-year terms. Presently, John Delaney is president of the Amador board.

A new Pleasanton Elementary School District board president is assured with Dr. Donaldson's election to the high school panel.

Betty Nostrand and Joe Schwab will be sworn in to four-year terms and will join holdover board members Al Dutchover, Dr. Guy Clark and Karen Finn. The latter is now clerk of the board.

Prime swimming time approaching

Pool staffing to occupy board

As summer moves inexorably closer, the Valley Community Service District Board of Directors will counter by considering the staffing requirements of their two swimming pools at tonight's 7:30 meeting in Dublin.

Recreation Superintendent Pete Vallarino is asking for $48,638.85 to keep the two pools — the San Ramon Olympic Pool and the Valley Community Swim Center — open seven days a week for lessons and recreational swimming.

Vallarino is asking for a total of 38 employes, with salaries ranging from $2.25 an hour to $5 an hour — 20 for the new San Ramon Olympic Pool at California High School and 18 for the Swim Center adjacent to Dublin High.

Present scheduling calls for both pools to be open Monday through Friday from 1 to 6 p.m. for recreational swimming and from 1 to 7 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays for the same purpose.

Mornings would be devoted to swim lessons at both sites, although San Ramon's facility will offer lessons from 1 to 3 p.m. as well.

The Valley Swim Center will also offer lessons Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7 to 8 p.m. for adults with the other two evenings set aside for recreational swimming. Just so evening swimmers will not be shut out of pools entirely, the San Ramon Olympic Pool will be open from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday with the Swim Center open on the same hours on Tuesday and Thursday.

All employes will be required to hold Red Cross Senior Lifesaving Certificates, Red Cross First Aid Certificates and the American Heart Association Cardio - Pulmonary Resuscitation Cards.

The higher-paying positions will require a Red Cross Water Safety Instructor Certificate.

Consideration of that item is first on tonight's agenda, which otherwise seems devoid of much interest. However, some fireworks might be generated by the letter from Ed Kinney, the nep mayor of Pleasanton, which turned down a request from VCSD for a meeting of the Sewer Committee.

Kinney feels the committee should not meet until Harvey Banks, who was hired by Pleasanton as a sewer consultant, completes his task and until the state completes its study of the VCSD plant. He feels this might be as much as two months away.

Also, the board will officially resolve to hold an election May 27 to raise the tax rate for VCSD from $1 per $100 of assessed valuation to $1.39 per $100.

The money will be used for parks and recreation, if the election is successful. A simple majority is required for passage of the measure.

In Contra Costa County, the election will coincide with a San Ramon Valley Unified School District election, but in Alameda County the VCSD proposal will be the only measure on the ballot.

There will be 10 polling places for the 7,412 registered voters in the 28 precincts.

Santa Rita Center to be film site

PLEASANTON - Portions of the Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center will be transformed into a World War II-era internment camp for one month this spring during the filming of a motion picture for television.

The film will be produced by Korty Films Inc. and will be directed by John Korty, who also directed the highly acclaimed "Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman."

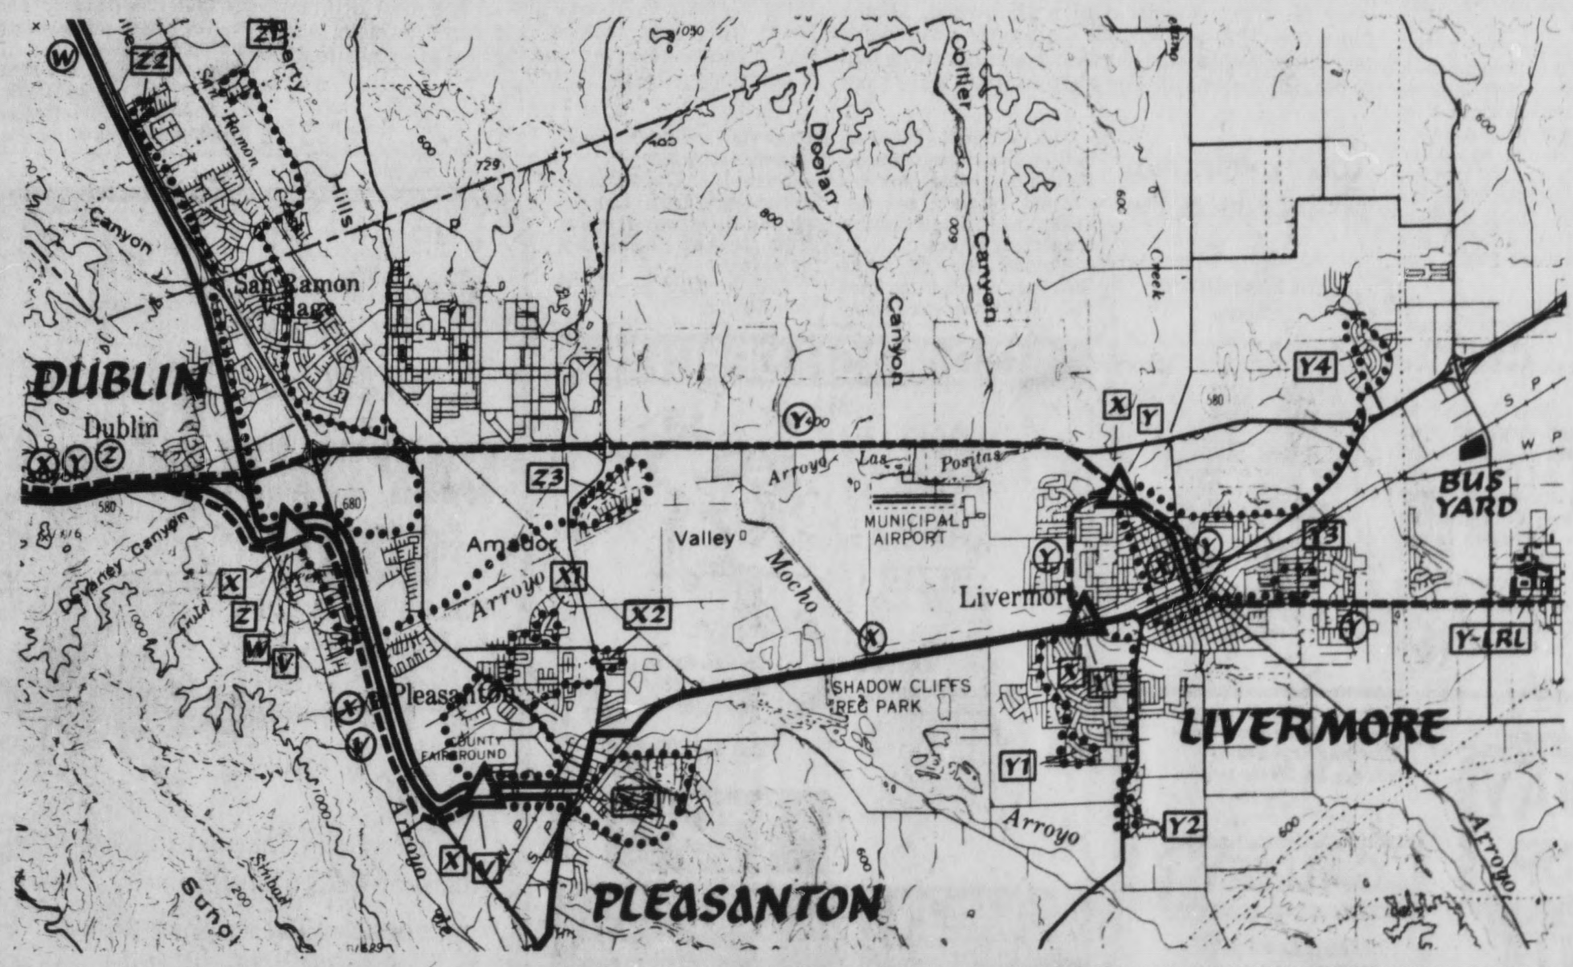
The script will deal with the internment of Japanese - Americans on the west coast during World War II.

Santa Rita was apparently chosen as the location for filming because, according to Santa Rita Chief Howard "Bud" Garrigan, it contains the "only authentic World War II military-style buildings left in existence."

The Alameda County Board of Supervisors has approved the film project, which will be shot in an area of Santa Rita that is little used. The county is charging Korty Films $1,000 for use of the property for one month, which will include set-up time, actual filming and clean-up time.

Garrigan will be in charge of the operation and said he hopes the film company will be able to use some inmates in the production as "extras" in the crowd scenes.

Garrigan said he believes the company will begin filming in May.



Proposed BART bus route through valley

The accompanying diagram depicts the proposed valley express bus routes and park and ride stations in the valley. The all-bus system is an alternative to the BART rail route through the valley.

A final decision on the bus or rail system and a determination as to where the valley extension is in the priority schedules of BART and the Metropolitan Transportation Commission will probably not be made by those regional transportation bodies until sometime next spring.

On the diagram, the solid black line indicates all-day service, the broken black line indicates peak period express service and the dotted line shows the local portion of peak period express bus service.

The triangles show the location of park and ride stations, where large parking lots would be located for commuters and the squares indicate the end points of various routes.

According to a draft report on a valley extension of BART to the valley, the rail system would cost approximately $370 million and the bus system around $80 million. However, the report indicates the bus system would generate an annual operating deficit of $795,000 nearly $4 million compared to an annual operating deficit of $795,000 for the rail system.

The Congress of Valley Agencies (COVA) will review the draft report at its April 10 meeting.

Three more hopefuls for Pleasanton Maid

Two juniors and a senior at Amador Valley High School are the latest entries in the Maid of Pleasanton Pageant.

Lori Hickman, Patricia Ann Kidd and Kim Vickers bring the total entry list to six with Thursday, April 3 being the final day to fill out and return applications.

Applications may be picked up at the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce office, 10 W.Neal St. Young women must be no younger than 17 by August 1 or older than 25 by that date, a resident of the Pleasanton or Sunol area, never have been married or been a mother and not have any police record.

Miss Hickman is a junior at Amador and was born in Norfolk, Virginia. She has resided in Pleasanton the past 10 years and enjoys working with plants. She hopes to work in an underdeveloped country some day in the field of plant propagation.

A member of the ornamental horticulture team at school, she lists swimming, hiking, skiing and bicycling as her favorite sports. Miss Hickman is 5-6 and 115, has brown hair and eyes.

Miss Kidd is a senior who plans to attend San Jose State and become a home economist. She was a 4-H member for nine years. She has won several awards for modeling.

Patricia likes to sew, cook, write and work with handcrafts and home furnishings. She lists tennis, fishing and camping as her favorite sports. She is 5-3 and 125, has blonde hair and hazel eyes.

Swimming, bike riding, baseball, tennis and gymnastics are all favorites of Kim Vickers, a 17-year old junior at Amador.

The blonde, blue-eyed former Alameda resident likes to sew, embroider and crochet. She hopes to become a model or something else in the line of fashion design. Kim has competed on the swim team for three years, given swim lessons and been a statistician for the girls and boys track teams. She is 5-54 and 110.

The Maid of Pleasanton Pageant is scheduled for Saturday, May 3, at 4 p.m. at the Fairgrounds Amphitheatre.

Chief speaks at chamber

PLEASANTON - How effective are this city's police and fire services? What improvement can the public and property owners expect in the future?

Those are the questions that Walter McCloud can be expected to field Tuesday evening when the city's Director of Public Safety makes his first public report since being named to that dual role. Longtime chief of the Pleasanton Fire Department, McCloud late last year was named also to chief of the fire and emergency services for City of Pleasanton.

The invitation to report on his duties, and his problems, was extended by the Chamber of Commerce. The special evening meeting is set for the large dining room at Hap's Restaurant, 7:30 p.m. No food will be served during the meeting, chamber officials state.

According to legal advice

City can allocate remaining sewer capacity

LIVERMORE - The city would be on safe legal grounds to draw up an ordinance allocating its remaining sewer capacity, is the gist of a memo to the planning commission prepared by the assistant city attorney.

Planning commissioners will consider Assistant City Attorney Gary Reiners' legal advice at their regular business meeting tonight starting at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Court Chambers, 39 S. Livermore Ave.

Reiners' five-page memo deals with the legality of halting growth based on lack of sewage treatment plant capacity and allocating the capacity that does remain between industrial and residential uses.

Livermore's sewage treatment plant is designed for a capacity of 5.0 million gallons per day (mgd).

According to Public Works Director Dan Lee, the latest estimated figures show 4.6 mgd in use with an additional commitment already made for .23 mgd for a total of 4.83 mgd already accounted for.

Left to be allocated is 0.17 mgd of sewage capacity.

(bIF the remaining 0.17 mgd were to be allocated to residential use, it would supply sewer connections toabout 500 homes.)

City council last month approved a General Plan amendment allocating at least half the remaining sewage capacity to nonresidential uses (industrial and commercial). The other half is to be allocated to residential uses, including 10 per cent to low and moderate income housing.

Reiners' memo attests to the legality of drafting an ordinance in accordance with the amendment's allocation, based on appellate court decisions.

HALTING GROWTH

The assistant city attorney notes that most cases dealing with the problem of limiting municipal growth on the basis of inadequate facilities are all from the East Coast.

Generally, the decisions are adverse to the attempts of the city to limit growth. But, Reiners points out, the courts often look to the motives of the cities involved.

"There is in the opinions a strong undercurrent of disbelief that such conditions of inadequacy really exist," writes Reiners, and later adds, "The fact of real restraints also distinguishes the Livermore problem from most, if not all, of the above-mentioned East Coast rulings."

He also notes that the attitude of the California courts — they are much more different to legislative bodies — is significant.

Even if the California courts were to second-guess the motives of a legislative body, as did the Eastern courts, Livermore could produce evidence of its attempts to secure expansion funds, explains Reiners.

Livermore requested but was denied federal funds to expand its sewage plant because it has been designated as a "critical air basin" by the state Water Quality Control Board. The label means federal air quality standards set up by the Environmental Protection Agency are not being met.

ALLOCATION

Reiners was unable to find any case law on allocating a fixed remaining amount of sewer capacity so he analyzed general principles.

According to his research, California statutes authorizing a city to maintain and build service facilities are broad enough to support a refusal to extend services if it is related to the general welfare or any legitimate public purposes.

"The allocation of sewer capacity between industrial and residential uses is clearly related to a justifiable goal of public policy," writes Reiners.

"Therefore it is within the general power of the municipality to adopt an allocation scheme, if there are no specific constitutional objections to such a plan, and there is no pre-emption by the state."

According to Reiners, there is no pre-emption by the state.

Constitutional problems, he explains, are based on the 'due process' and 'equal protection'clauses of the U S. Constitution.

Federal courts will uphold a legislative solution if it is even vaguely related to legitimate objectives, says Reiners, and a sewer allocation ordinance would have no problems with the"due process" standard.

To provide"equal protection," the allocation must be "essentially rational," notes the assistant city attorney.

Contest winners

By a dedicated process of elimination from the many colorful entries in the Shamrock Ford-Valley/Pleasanton Times Coloring Contest, JoAnne Bascom, a member of Murray School District Board of Trustees and 7-year member of Dublin Junior Women's Club chose the winners. First place went to Korrin Kachel with a $25 award. Second place selection went to Cari Ingram for a $15 award and Chris Nadeau was chosen for number three spot and a $10 award. All three top winners were from Livermore. Five honorable mentions went to Frances Mulrooney, Livermore; Andrea Archer, Pleasanton; Judith Jones, Hayward; Debbie Steinberg, Livermore and Denise Castro of Pleasanton. Each of the five runners-up received a $5 award. JoAnne claimed there were so many interesting entries it was one of the most difficult tasks she's ever tackled. She came through with flying colors, however, and that's a prerequisite for a coloring contest.

Evening meetings begin

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND - The Alameda County Board of Supervisors will initiate a three-month experiment tonight in an effort to make county government accessible to more citizens.

Tonight and on the first Tuesday meeting date in May and June, the board will meet at 7 p.m., rather than holding its traditional morning meeting, so that citizens who are unable to attend the daytime sessions are given the opportunity to see their county government in action in the evenings.

The three-month experiment with evening meetings was approved by the board several months ago over the objections of Supervisor John Murphy, who contended the night meetings would present a security problem.

At tonight's meeting, the supervisors will receive bids for two improvements at the Alameda County Fairgrounds, for a $170,000 horse overpass and for a prefabricated structure for the Livestock Judging Area.

The board will also consider a request from Zone 7 for a $51,479 appropriation for standby power for operating the new Del Valle Water Treatment Plant in case of a power outage.

In addition, the board will discuss a letter from Hotline, Inc. concerning conflict of interest statutes and will consider a revenue sharing contract with the Valley Community Services District.

Also on Tuesday's agenda are petitions from three valley property owners requesting rezoning to agriculture as a qualification for inclusion in agricultural preserves. The petitions of Castlewood Country Club, Joe Caldeira and Charles Nissen will be heard on Thursday, May 1.

The supervisors will meet at 7 p.m. today in the Alameda County Administration Building, 1221 Oak St.

Local crimes may be linked together

PLEASANTON - Police are still seeking a possible connection between a Thursday morning burglary and vandalism to two Singer Housing Corporation homes.

Burglars apparently forced their way through the front door of an unoccupied home, removing an electric oven valued at some $300.

Meanwhile, vandals broke into another Singer home and ripped bathroom fixtures from the wall causing $100 damages.

Both incidents are under investigation.

PULLING TOGETHER FOR CANCER CRUSADE
City chairmen Pat Jensen of Pleasanton, Alice Johnston of Livermore and Virginia Woy of Dublin.

Cancer crusade gathers

"We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime" is the rallying cry of more than 1,700 American Cancer Society volunteers in the valley as they enter April, Cancer Crusade Month.

Pat Jensen of Pleasanton, Alice Johnston of Livermore, and Virginia Woy of Dublin have been named city chairmen in the door-to-door campaign that climaxes the month's efforts April 17 through 27.

Pleasanton chairman for a third year, Mrs. Jensen will direct some 550 volunteers in collecting contributions and distributing an educational packet that includes a cancer quiz for the whole family, and instructions for women on how to administer breast self-examination.

About 970 volunteer walkers will canvass the Livermore area underleadership of Mrs. Johnston, who was co-chairman of the city's campaign last year. Young men of the local Demolay chapter have offered to walk Livermore's Springtown area for the crusade.

In Dublin, ten-year ACS campaign veteran Virginia Woy will direct about 200 volunteers.

Members of the Iota Eta chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority in Pleasanton have prepared hundreds of kits for distribution throughout the valley through the efforts of Donna Schwapenlund.

All three city chairman express the need for more volunteers, both for walking neighborhoods in which they reside, and for canvassing areas not yet covered by resident volunteers

A kick-off luncheon tomorrow will orient ACS volunteers of the Livermore-Amador Valley branch (Pleasanton, Dublin and Livermore) at the Shannon Community Center in Dublin from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The luncheon is open to persons interested in joining the campaign.

Guest speakers at the kick-off will be Oakland Raider Gene Upshaw of Pleasanton, and Judge Jacqueline Taber of Oakland, leaders of the 1975 Alameda County cancer crusade which hopes to raise $110,000. Other speakers include the executive director of the county's ACS unit, and the county's chief residential volunteer.

The money raised, according to crusade leaders, will help fund the American Cancer Society's three-fold programs of research into the causes and cures of cancer, education of the public to preventive measures, and local service to cancer patients and their families

Persons interested in becoming a walker for this year's cancer crusade may contact Mrs. Jensen at 846-7487, Mrs. Johnston at 447-4766, or Mrs. Woy at 828-2854.

Shedding light on plant care

By JANET TARA

Okay, you've decided to start an indoor garden. Before jumping headfirst into what could be an expensive and disappointing project by buying the wrong plants for your living conditions, let's look at what it takes to grow healthy plants.

All plants need light, but some require less than others. Trying to decide what kind of light you have can be fairly difficult. If you have an unobstructed southerly exposure, you probably have bright, direct light conditions. An unobstructed northerly exposure usually indicates medium light conditions, while an obstructed exposure in any direction can medium to low light conditions.

Allowances for poor light can be made through the use of plant lights. An ordinary incandescent light can produce fairly good results. But all artificial lights must be kept on for 12 hours or more to be effective. In these energy-short days, it would probably be wisest to stick with low-light plants which can live without the aid of plant lights.

Women voters hear Holmdahl

Senator John L. Holmdahl (D-8th) discussed his assignment on the tax and revenue committee to members of the League of Women Voters recently.

In, the presentation at the home of Mrs. Jewel Sweet, the senator stated that his personal priority was funding the education system. He also explained a tax-reform bill which he is sponsoring to require banks to pay interest on money held by them for taxes on individual homes.

With regard to his committee assignment, he pointed out that while the federal government budget can operate with a deficit, the state budget must be balanced each year This means that the tax and revenue committee must find new taxes to fund each new proposed program, the senator explained.

"Birthright," a pregnancy-crisis counseling service, has scheduled four training sessions in April for persons interested working with the valley-wide community service.

Valley professionals will conduct the sessions April 2, 9, 16 and 23 at the community room of State Savings and Loan Building in Livermore. Each session runs from 10 a.m. to noon.

Individuals interested in working in any capacity for the service are invited, and may obtain additional information at 455-1146.

Free TM talk

The public is invited to a free lecture on transcendental meditation tonight at 8 o'clock at the Pleasanton library.

The lecturer is Norman Watsey, an instructor with the Student International Meditation Society.

Wok cookery class at Dublin

A Wok Cookery School, featuring Chinese cooking expert Margaret Wong, will be offered April 17 at Dublin's Liberty House from 2 to 4 p.m.

Registration for the free class begins Thursday, April 3, in the store's housewares department.

Born in Hong-Kong, Mrs. Wong has been teaching Chinese cooking at the San Francisco Chinatown YWCA for the past 15 years. Her students have included professional cooks, cooking instructors and a television audience.

Patriotic plants?

Presenting a donation from Knodt's Flowers to the Livermore Bicentennial Organization's April 4 plant sale is Mrs. Marie Rumberger. The gift is received by Jennifer Stabb, while Susan Junk displays the desk spearhead flags also to be sold to help fund Bicentennial activities. The sale opens in the west room of the Livermore Recreation Center from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Stronger consumer office

Proposals have been introduced to the California State Assembly to reform the Department of Consumer Affairs and strengthen the enforcement of consumer affairs laws, and occupational licensing laws.

"The Consumer Affairs Act of 1970 was landmark legislation for consumer protection," state Assemblyman Alister McAlister (D-San Jose), author of AB 1217.

Unfortunately, the power given to state government has hardly been used, and I believe part of the reason is that the enforcement of the Consumer Affairs Act was assigned to the director of professional and vocational standards, the department which houses most of the state's occupational licensing agencies.

"About 40 agencies, mostly under the direction of boards composed of gubernatorial appointees — over 200 — make up this department," McAlister explained.

"The department director has been put in the position of being the state's primary consumer advocate on one hand, and the trail boss trying to move this herd of gubernatorial appointees — who are all thus his equals — on the other hand. It is an impossible job."

Proposal AB 1217 splits the enforcement of the Consumer Affairs Act apart from the licensing of occupations, making the Department of Consumer Affairs concerned with consumer protection only.

The director of Consumer Affairs is given the authority to make administrative rules and regulations to carry out the purposes of several existing comsumer affairs laws: the Unfair Trade Practices Law, the False or Misleading Advertising Law, the Consumer's Legal Remedy Act, the Unruh Installment purchasing Act, the Consumer Warranty Act, the Credit Card Act, the Credit Reporting Act, and the Restraint of Trade Law.

The department will be given the authority to receive the complaints of consumers regarding violations, and go into court to prosecute the violators. At the present time, the local district attorneys must be persuaded to prosecute, but they are distracted by a heavy workload of higher priority cases.

In effect, the bill creates a special state prosecutor for consumer protection.

Under the provisions of the bill, the department would be able to issue cease and desist orders to prevent continued violation of consumer protection laws.

Authority to assist consumers in the preparation of class-action suits would also be granted.

All of these powers would be in addition to the existing powers in the Consumers Affairs Act, most dealing with the advocacy of consumer rights before other government agencies.

Juniors hunt Dynamo labels

The Dublin Junior Women's Club is collecting the front label of "Dynamo Laundry Detergent," to help raise funds for 1975 operating expenses.

Labels from the 28, 48 and 96-ounce sizes may be easily removed in hot soapy water, according to the Juniors.

For label pick-up contact Carol Lopez at 828-0586, or Brenda Bodie at 828-0392.

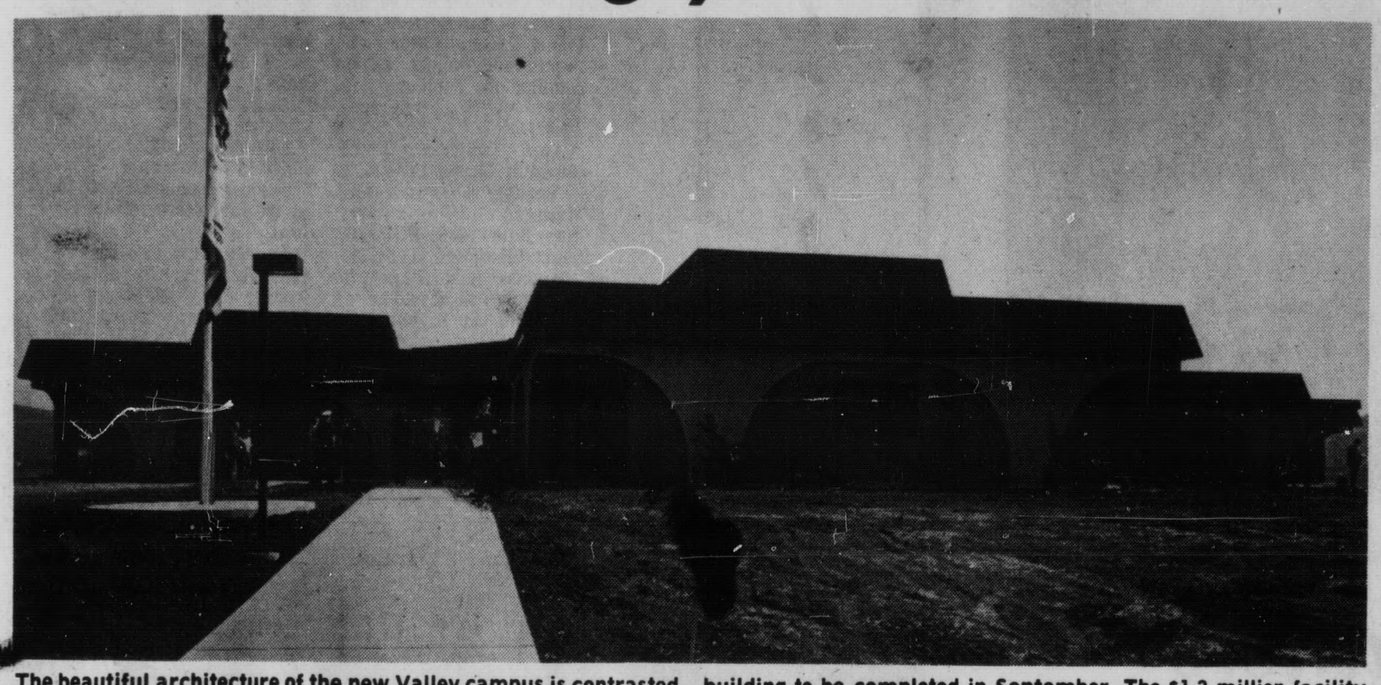
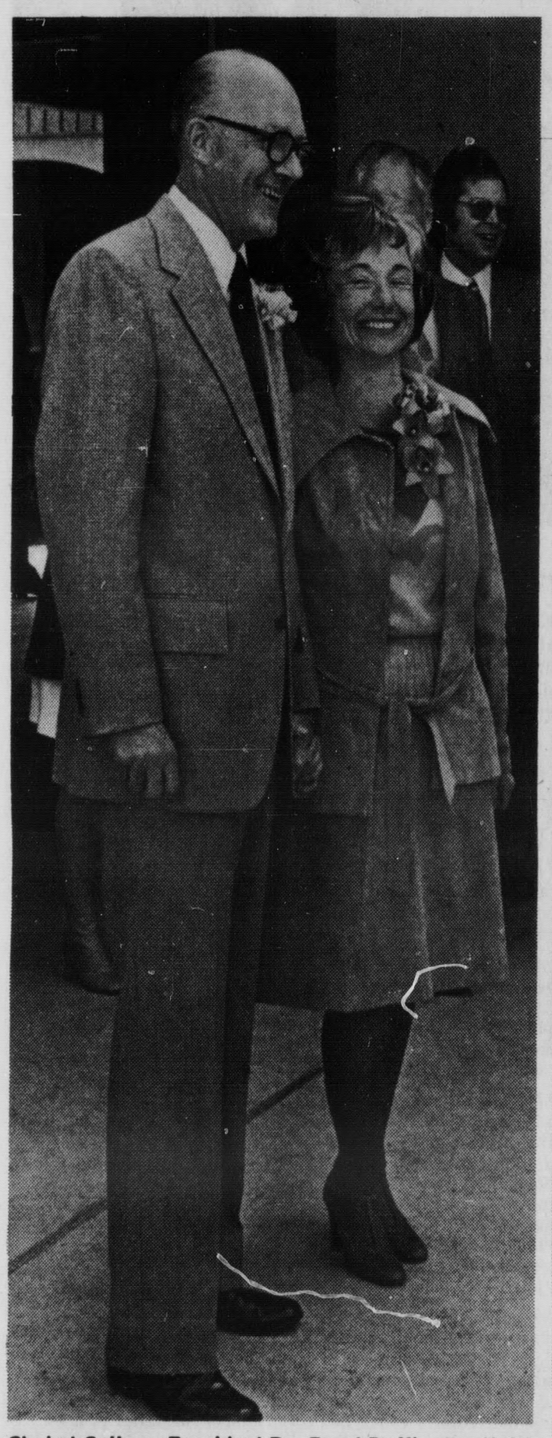
After 12 long years, the valley gets its college

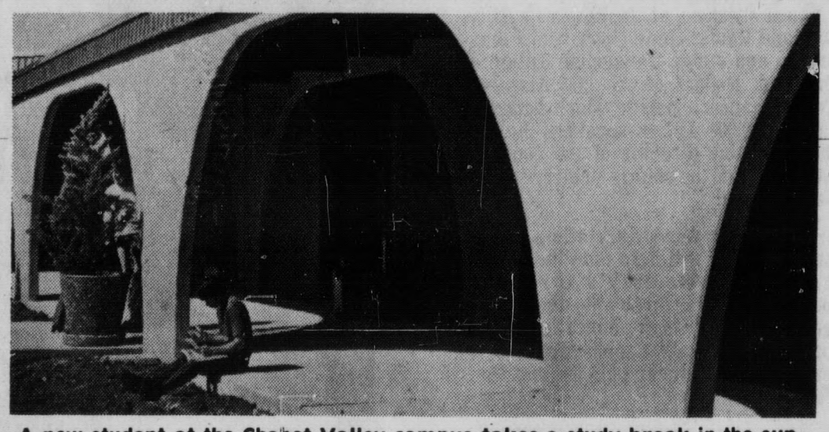


The beautiful architecture of the new Valley campus is contrasted with freshly tilled ground, awaiting landscaping and a fifth building to be completed in September. The $1.3 million facility will house up to 1,000 students when construction is finished.

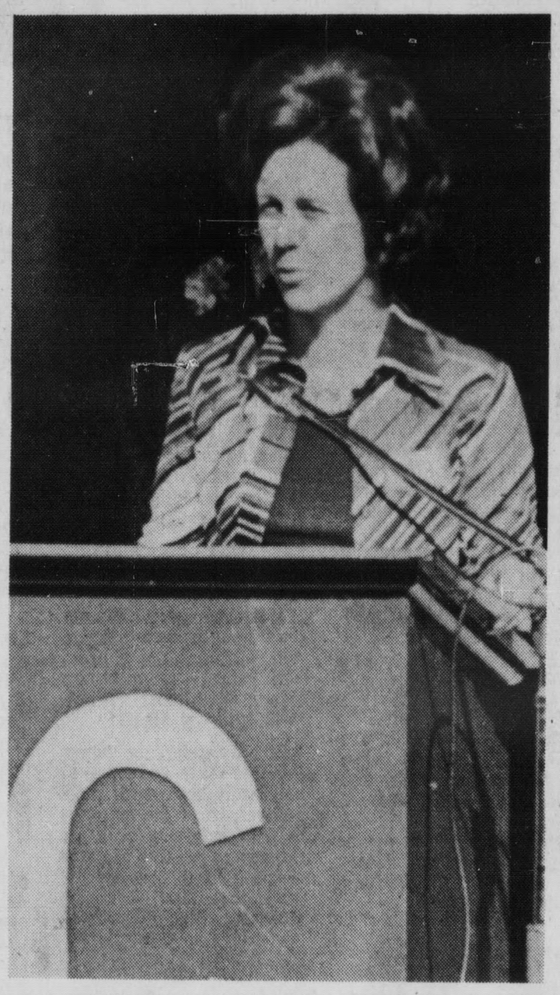
Director of Students Personnel Services Irv Batz hands a registration packet to Darrell Culpepper of Livermore, the first student to register at Friday's opening. Katherine Daack, also of Livermore and the second to register, looks on.



Chabot College President Dr. Reed Buffington (left) and Valley campus Dean Dr. Barbara Mertes celebrate the opening of the higher education institution in the Valley.

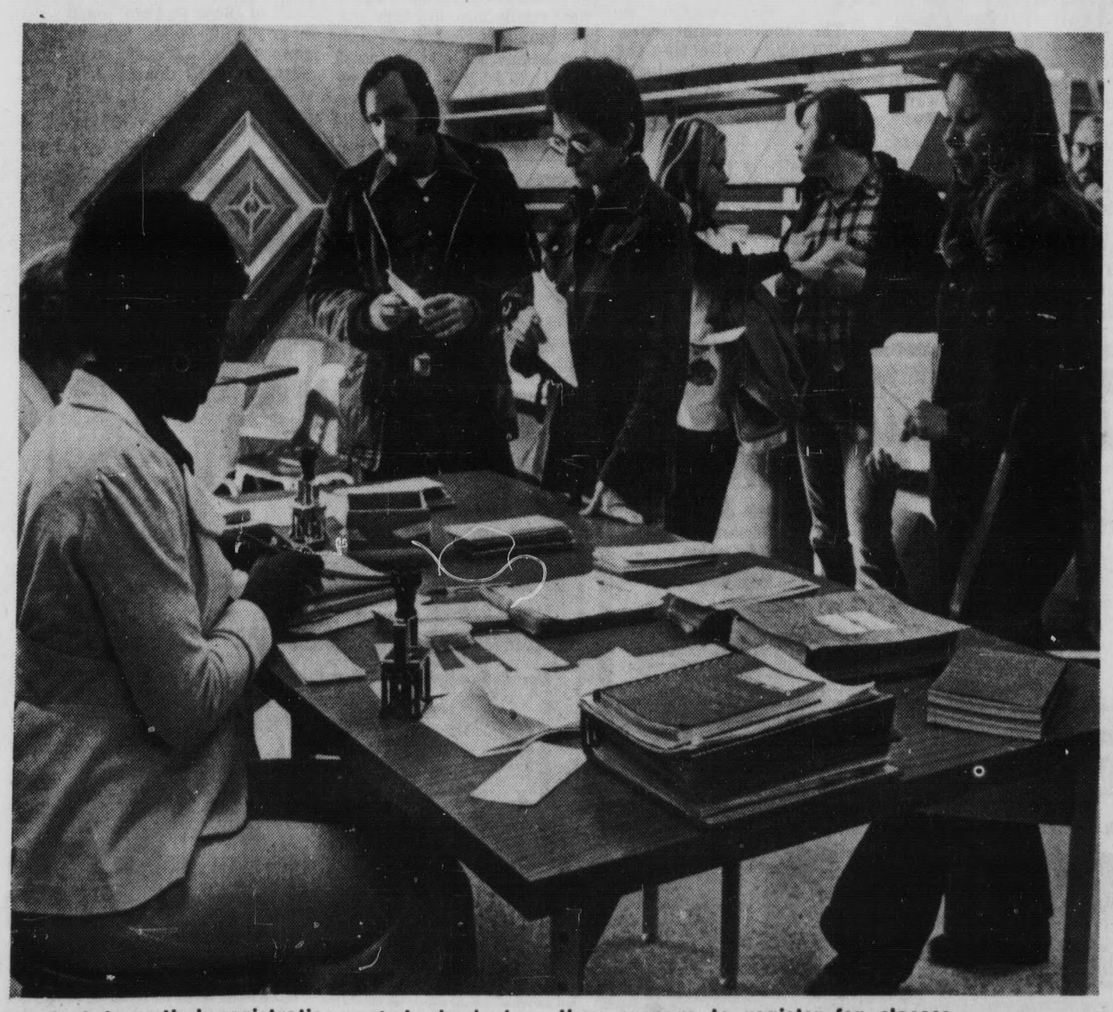


A new student at the Chabot Valley campus takes a study break in the sun.



Community College Board of Trustees President Ann Duncan presides over ceremonies Monday in which the new Valley campus was officially opened.

A harried bookstore clerk tries to laugh it off when her cash register pays no attention to opening festivities and fails to work. A quick investigation shows the cord was unplugged, and new Valley Campus students were able to purchase their books.



Students have their registration packets checked as they prepare to register for classes

For Tuesday, April 1, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You won't accomplish as much as you're capable of today because of your self-doubts. Strive for more inner faith.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your ambitious scheme is not in accord with a friend's ideas. Cross words will result if you don't handle this with extreme tact.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You'll eagerly pick another's brain for advice. But when it comes to making decisions, you'll ignore the advice!

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Do give credit where credit is due, especially to one who has proven to be a capable assistant. Appreciation goes a long way.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) One you're closely associated with will be annoyed if he thinks you're not telling him all. Don't hold back facts.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Matters relating to family finances should continue to take precedence over all others today. Don't invest in frivolous ventures.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This will be a pleasant day in the social sense. However, you'll have a tendency to ignore work that should be done.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Keep information concerning personal finances to yourself. One you talk with will put it on the teletype for all the world to read.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) A good idea you have will not muster all the support it deserves because you won't have all your facts in order.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It will prove embarrassing to the donor if you reveal the source of something given you. He'll regret his generosity.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) There will be some game-playing today with an acquaintance. Each of you will try to outmaneuver the other for his own advantage.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) What you do will be noticed. It won't be necessary to blow your own horn. Let others boast on your behalf.

You will become more active this year in club and organizational work. The role you play will be a leading and rewarding one. You'll gain new admirers.

Opening lead — Q ♠

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Bridge is a game full of adages — "second hand low; third hand high"; "cover an honor with an honor"; "aces are made to take kings"; "lead from longest and strongest". They all form a litany that makes a Gregorian chant seem brief. One of the standard admonitions for declarers is to attack your best suit.

But just as good declarers learn to postpone finesses until other avenues of play are exhausted; they should also be alert to instances when weaker suits should be attacked first in the play of a hand.

Today's declarer was a firm believer in adages and standard admonitions. He won the king of spades; played a club to the king and a club to the ace. When that suit failed to split; he tried the diamond finesse. The result — down one.

Since he was always going to make the hand if clubs split; declarer should have given himself an extra chance by FIRST playing the heart suit. With a three-three division; the ninth trick would be assured. The extra dividend occurred here. With the queen and 10 falling in the East hand the play of the third round of the suit toward the nine in dummy will produce the game-going trick.

President Ford may have deepened his difficulties with GOP conservatives

An AP News Analysis
By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — By signing the tax cut bill, President Ford appears to have deepened his difficulties with Republican conservatives who had urged him to veto the bill in order to limit the federal budget deficit.

At the same time, however, Ford may have helped himself in an over-all political sense by combining actions that demonstrated moderation and conciliation with words that were sharply critical of Congress.

If the tax cut succeeds in its basic purpose of stimulating consumer spending, it could help bring about an economic recovery that would strengthen the President's position going into the 1976 election campaign.

The size of the federal deficit, now estimated by Ford at about $60 billion and by congressional experts at least $10 billion higher, has been one of the chief points of difference between GOP conservatives and Ford.

They were critical of the President's original budget with its $52 billion deficit and were cool toward the idea of spurring economic recovery by a reduction in taxes that would increase the deficit.

During the congressional debate on the tax measure, conservatives led the battle against it and provided most of the negative votes on its final passage.

While top Democratic leaders who fought for the tax cut hailed Ford's action Saturday night, negative reactions were coming from conservatives, including Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

"I am very disappointed that he did not veto the bill," Goldwater said. "This country cannot go on having the kind of deficit this will mean without going bankrupt in a period of five years."

More significantly, perhaps, the No. 2 man in the House Republican leadership, Rep. Robert H. Michel of Illinois, indicated there would be widespread disappointment in the party's right wing.

"I think some of the conservatives who voted against a tax relief bill are going to be a bit perturbed after they went out on a limb for this thing and then the President (signed it," Michel said.

He added that he had leaned on House conservatives to demonstrate their coolness toward the tax cut in order to show Ford that a veto could be sustained, only to have the effort go for naught.

Homebuyers will have to prove price was low to qualify for tax break

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Homebuyers who wish to take advantage of the tax break provided on new home purchases will have to prove to the Internal Revenue Service that the home was purchased at the lowest possible price.

The provision, written into the tax bill by Congress and approved by President Ford on Saturday night, is designed to prevent any increase in the price of the home by the seller that would offset the tax-credit savings to the home buyer.

The tax credit itself is equal to 5 per cent of the purchase price of the new homez with a maximum credit of $2,000.

A tax credit is different from a tx deduction in that the credit can be subtracted from the taxes that otherwise would be payable. Congress estimates the total credits to tax-paying homebuyers from this wuld amount to $600 million.

In addition to new homes, the credit also applies to purchases of mobile homes and living units in condominiums or cooperative housing projects.

To qualify, the home or living unit must have been under construction prior to March 26 of this year, and the purchase must be made or agreed to between March 12 and Dec. 31 of the 1975 calendar year.

People who build their own homes can claim the credit for a home built in 1976, as well.

To guard against possible unfair abuses of the tax credit, the legislation contains the following safeguards:

—The homebuyer must be the first occupant of the home.

—It must be the principal place of residence. In other words, the purchase of a summer home wouldn't qualify.

—To claim the credit on 1975 taxes, the taxpayer must attach to his tax return a certification by the seller that the purchase price is the lowest price at which the residence was ever offered for sale.

Hospital's directors take action

The Mt. Diablo Hospital District board of directors has taken these actions:

Salaries—Asked the district personnel committee to determine the best method for reviewing the hospital's entire wage structure.

Authority—Agreed to meet with the district authority board in early April to discuss financial matters. The althority board oversees the district's major construction and acquisition expenditures.

Opening—Confirmed May 3 as opening date for the hospital's new tower wing.

Employes—Authorized the eventual hiring of 65.7 new employes to help staff the new wing after it opens. The staff increase is expected to take place over a long period of time, with employes hired and trained only as needed.

Running away from home

'Hooray for Ozzie'

Roy Kissin

My body said 5:30 p.m. The clock said 1:30 a.m. I spent the next six hours staring at the ceiling, counting sheep, meditating, reading by moonlight — anything but sleeping. Race day had arrived.

After breakfast at 11:30 p.m. body time, I finally slept for a few hours. At noon local time my Junior teammates Robert Thomas, Ralph Serna, Clary and I were off for the hippodrome. Not a word was spoken during the bus ride.

Several hundred silent, open-jawed Moroccan peasants watched our every move as we got off the bus. Their heads rotated as if connected by a single string. I couldn't help laughing.

Once inside the bull pen, I jogged a mile, then sat down to watch everyone else warm up. Athletes from all over the world pranced about like nervous thoroughbreds, immensely proud of their bright new national uniforms.

The cry went out to get ready. We marched Olympic style before the Royal Family. I suddenly became aware of the crowd, and this time it was my jaw that dropped. To an American who is used to running before two or three parents and an occasional dog, the sight of 10 to 20 thousand screaming fans was quite a shock.

When the procession ended, the runners began to hurry toward the opposite side of the track, where our race was to start. I was the first one there, carrying Shorter's advice to the extreme. I hadn't been so nervous for a race in years.

The true ordeal of competition lies in the agonizing seconds just before the gun. The runner is isolated. All the pent-up emotion comes to a head. Concentration is inscribed on each person's face as he becomes lost in himself.

The roaring crowd, almost a quarter-mile away, presented an eerie contrast to the silence at the line. "God," I thought. "Why can't they just start the damn thing?"

The report of the pistol came, just as everyone said it would — unexpectedly. I charged headlong into the throng of flailing feet and elbows. The torrid early pace made it difficult to put my form together. I told myself to relax, to harbor the surge of aggressiveness I was feeling. I would need that energy later.

At the end of the first lap I was in 30th place. It was then that the less-experienced runners, who had gone out too fast, began to tire. Bob Thomas surged ahead, making an early move. I keyed off Serna just ahead, oblivious to the other runners, whom I knew little about.

And then it hit me. I realized in a moment of simple enlightenment that this was just a race, World Championship or not. This was one race out of an entire career, and my performance in it was not tremendously important. The pleasure of being able to run every day, of being healthy and alive, was reward enough. The World Championship race was just icing on the cake.

The race suddenly became easy. I gradually worked my way through the pack until I caught Serna with 1000 meters left. I tried to cajole him into going just the slightest increment faster. He stared at me blankly. I ran on.

In the frantic final 800 meters, I passed five runners. The early pace had taken its toll on them also. Later, I learned I had finished eighth. Thomas' first, Don Clary's fifth and Serna's 15th gave the U.S. the team title.

That night we joined the fifth-place U.S. seniors and the victorious New Zealand seniors in a post-race party.

The Kiwis demonstrated mastery of their true National Sport: beer-drinking. They capped off the evening very early the next morning by serenading Mr. Ozzie Melville, head of the New Zealand Amateur Athletic Association, with a sentimental old antipodean ballad which begins, "Horay for Ozzie, he's a horse's — "

The hotel management kicked us out of the room at the song's conclusion.

The Kiwis' jovial celebration seemed to epitomize the spirit of the meet. I commented to Frank Shorter on what a fine day it had been. He replied, "Isn't that what it's all about? Being able to go out and have a few beers with your competition after a day at the races?"

Mullican sees hot EBAL race

The EBAL pennant race should be a wide open scramble this season, says Tom Mullican, head baseball coach at Dublin High. And before the year is over, he hopes the Gaels will be a factor.

It's too soon to tell yet, he cautions, even though Dublin opens the league schedule today at Livermore. Game time is 3:30 p.m. In other opening day action, Monte Vista is at San Ramon.

"You just can't pick a winner yet," Mullican said yesterday. "This is one of the strongest leagues in the East Bay. Even teams we didn't think would be as tough are good.

"We'll be a contender," Mullican says, "but we're not ready to play yet."

Dublin heads into today's game with a 4-4 pre-season record. Because of seasonal Spring rains, Mullican says his players are far behind schedule.

"We haven't practiced on a field for three weeks," he moaned. "That's what I've been trying to tell people, but nobody will listen. We've been trying to play, but we're making errors because we don't practice. We're just playing on what we've learned in the past."

Today's game should be a reunion for both sides, since the Gaels and Cowboys are veteran teams. Right hander Keith Richardson, a starter a year ago, is expected to pitch for Livermore. Either John Prieto or Steve Grant will work for Dublin. Only a practice last night could determine which would get the call, Mullican said.

"Remember we've got to play San Ramon Friday," he added; "and they're as good, if not better than Livermore."

Mike Zampa, editor

There will be plenty of familiar faces on each side of the Livermore diamond, but some will be deployed differently.

Veteran catcher Dave Woy may open in the outfield for the Gaels, with Matt Billy behind the plate. An off-season ankle operation cut down Woy's mobility behind the plate. He has traded playing time there with Billy in the last two weeks.

Prieto, a third baseman last year when he wasn't pitching, was planned for second base this season. But now he's been shuffled to shortstop to trade-off with Grant. Sophomore Sean Mays has landed the second base job.

"We have to get him into the order," Mullican said, "because he's an exceptional hitter. He's a big, strong kid."

Livermore has done some tinkering with its returning players, though the Cowboys are nearly settled now. Dan Bernacil, the third baseman last season, is now at second. Dan Wood has replaced him at the corner.

The other change concerns All-EBAL shortstop Wayne Perry, who abandoned his switch-hitting trial. The senior is strictly a right handed hitter this year, and one of the league's most dangerous lead-off men.

Livermore enjoyed a successful pre-season thanks to the fine pitching of Richardson, John Janzen and Rick Maniz. Last week the Cowboys added veteran Chuck Lewis to the crew.

Coach Kevin Drake's concern is the hitting.

"We've gotta make contact to make things happen in the field," he said last week. "That sets up the possibility for mistakes by the other team. The kids were trying toohard," Drake said, "and they were popping up a lot. Now they're finding out they can make contact."

Livermore exploded for 15 base hits last Thursday in a victory over San Lorenzo.

Wooden goes out with 10th title

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Rich Washington and Dave Meyers combined for 52 points and controlled the boards Monday night to send UCLA's incredible Bruins to a 92-85 victory over Kentucky, giving John Wooden his 10th NCAA national basketball championship in his final game as a coach.

A crowd of 15,153 saw some of the 64-year-old Wooden's own strategy pay off for his Bruins, which won the title for the eighth time in the last nine years and 10th in the past 12.

UCLA, which trailed by six points early in the first half before Wooden sent 7-foot-1 Ralph Drollinger into the game, went ahead 43-40 at the half and never trailed thereafter.

Drollinger added height and rebounding to the Bruins' front three, combining with the 6-9 Wishington, who had 28 points, and the 6-8 Meyers who had 24, as UCLA began to take control of its offensive board.

Kentucky's Kevin Grevey, who had a game-high 34 points, led a strong Wildcat comeback that pulled Kentucky within one point at 76-75. But Kentucky blew several chances to go ahead—missing a one-and-one free throw and a technical—and could not catch up.

Wooden's first strategic change came when he put Meyers on Grevey, who already had scored 10 points when Kentucky led by 20-14. Later Drollinger replaced 6-6 Marques Johnson and the Bruins began to change the game's tempo.

The Bruins went ahead 35-34 when Pete Trgovich hit three straight field goals and UCLA never trailed.

Midway in the second half, keyed by baskets by Meyers and Washington, UCLA built a 10-point lead at 66-56.

That's when Kentucky began its comeback, with Grevey making two three-point plays and Mike Flynn making one.

Kentucky cut it to 76-75 when Grevey hit a 20-foot jump shot. But then the Wildcats blew their big chance when Meyers fouled Grevey and was charged with a technical when he slapped the ball.

Grevey had a one-and-one and a technical and his team trailed by only one. Grevey missed both free throws and when Kentucky took the ball out of bounds, they threw it away.

Wooden's successor was expected to be named shortly. But Louisville Coach Denny Crum, rumored to be a strong candidate, withdrew his name from speculation before Monday's games by saying he planned to remain at Louisville.

Dons invade poll, ranked ninth in EB

The team that finished on top of last year's East Bay baseball poll is back for the first time this season.

Amador Valley High, following three victories and a second place finish in the Arroyo Easter Tournament, is rated ninth this week in the latest East Bay Prep Writer's list.

The Dons, who were written off by many because they are rebuilding, barely lost the Arroyo title. They were defeated by Ygnacio Valley in the title contest, 2-1.

San Ramon, one of the teams Amador defeated last week, rose from 11th to seventh in the poll. The Wolves won three games. Monte Vista is rated 14th this week. Livermore received honorable mention.

Skyline of Oakland, idle last week, remains the East Bay's number one team

6-over sinks Wolves

There are days when a double bogey looks good.

San Ramon's Don Bastian had one of those days yesterday, as he sprayed a disastrous 10 strokes around the eighth hole at Las Positas.

Bastian was shooting even par entering the par-four eighth, but that ballooned into a 44, allowing Livermore to squeeze out a 198-202 win over the Wolf golfers.

Following the decisive number-five match, Livermore's Mike Voelker carded a 38 to insure victory for the hosts.

At Castlewood Country Club, Amador sixth man Scott Peters turned in the low card of the day, a 38, as the Dons took a 198-214 victory over Granada.

Harold Zosel had a 39 for the winners, and Jack Stevenson and Sam Briggs turned in 40's. Greg Mona and Randy Peterson rounded out the scoring for Amador with a 41 and a 42.

The lowest score recorded by a Granada player was 42, as Jeff Stefani, Mike White and Bill Bieber shared the honor for the Mats.

At San Ramon National, Dublin took Cal High, 217-239.

Chris Canalini's 36 led all individual scorers, and the closest competitor was teammate Ted Keffeler with a 42.

Dublin's Kert Whitaker and California's Greg Fisher, at 43, came next. Dave Edwards and Dave Glasher of California both carded 44's.

Shamrocks to Fresno

The Dublin Shamrocks marched into the State Cup soccer championships with a 3-0 victory over the San Ramon Spitfires last weekend.

The victory, witnessed by more than 150 people at Dublin's Frederikson School, vaulted the Shamrocks into a 1 p.m. Sunday State Cup final with the Wolters' Cherokees of Fresno.

The State Cup championships begin Saturday at Lamonica Stadium in Clovis, near Fresno.

Besides the Shamrocks, two other area teams are entered in the prestigious California Youth Soccer Association championships. The under-10 Ballistic United team, coached by Art Dawe, will play Saturday against Walnut Creek. Sunday, Ian Lang's under-14 Ballistic United team will meet the Ahwahnee Chiefs of Fresno.

This is the first time in four years that the State Cup finals will not be staged at Livermore's Robertson Park. The CYSA accepts bids from cities each season for the right to host the event.

Dublin's Shamrocks earned a trip to the finals with an outstanding defense that limited the Spitfires to eight shots on goal.

Goal keeper Dave Snyder had three saves in the first 11 minutes for Dublin, but departed due to an injury. Rusty Swarts replaced him and registered four more saves.

The Shamrocks took a 1-0 lead on Jason Cummings' goal from 10-yards away in the 21st minute.

Dublin dominated the first portions of the game, and at halftime out-shot San Ramon, 11-6.

In the second half John Kulak extended the Shamrock lead with a score at the 13 minute mark. He struck on a 30-yard lob from the sideline. Kulak was perhaps the outstanding player in the game.

Jim Grant rounded out the Dublin scoring four minutes behind Kulak with a five-yarder from Brian McDonald's assist.

Ed Lopez played a fine game in the forward line to set up the scores.

For San Ramon, goal keeper Tod Lemos was outstanding with nine saves. Toby Macfarlane, Bill Garrigan, Eric Lieng and Dan Sheffer played well defensively. Tom Brice and Kirk Bowles sparked the Spitfire offense.

Suns' 5-0 burst

The Livermore Suns erupted for all their goals in the first half, then sat on the ball for a 5-0 soccer victory over the Dublin Cardinals last weekend.

Les Jacobs scored two goals for Livermore, while Don Aguiar, Jack Frye and Steve D'Ambra added single scores.

Jacobs, Aguiar, D'Ambra, Frank Brown and Wally West all had assists.

Goal keeper Bart Hildebrand had four saves for the Suns.

The Independent Sharks and Atomic Pions played to a 2-2 tie.

Bob Hunter had both Pion goals. Troy Larsen and Greg Ogle scored for the Sharks.

Fred Stayton had an assist for the Pions. Ken Taylor and Rich Piczcynski had assists for the Sharks.

The Sharks' Doug Hiles recorded 10 saves, and received fine defensive assistance from Robbie Shephard and Dennis peterson.

Defensive standouts for the Pions include Greg Ozawa, Wayne Lynch and John Korthius.

Gael girls win

Singles victories by Diane Dahle and Stephanie Sibilia got Dublin High's girls' tennis team started on a 4-2 victory over Mt. Diablo Monday afternoon.

Barbara Gray and Michele Chagnau got the Gaels' third win as they took the first doubles match, and Jay Howarth and Rika Murayana added the icing with a victory in second doubles.

Girls open play

The EBAL girls' tennis and softball seasons get underway this afternoon.

Four tennis matches are scheduled with California at Amador, Dublin at Livermore Granada at Foothill, and Monte Vista at San Ramon.

In softball, Foothill plays at Granada in varsity action The California junior varsity will be at Amador.

B-and-B's bow

The Black and Blues of Dublin dropped to 1-1 in mixed adult soccer play last weekend, falling to the Buchanan Bucks of Fremont, 1-0.

Ken Meister scored for the Bucks on an assist by Bonnie Wong. Goal keeper Rich Cortez stopped the Dublin team with eight saves. Rich Cortez and Jan James were top players.

For the Black and Blues, Dick Patrick and Clark Scott combined for seven saves. Bob Dowell, Patty Karels and Dan Bugna played well.

Sunol, the only team in the Saturday Stumblers' League with two victories, lost its first game, 11-2 to the Pleasanton Spoilers.

Two seniors now closer to awards

Two valley high school seniors are one step closer to the $1,000 cash awards that await top winners in the Bank of America's 1975 Achievement Awards program.

Named winners in their respective study fields in a zone competition in Fremont earlier this week were Robert Vieira, Amador Valley High, fine arts, and Cynthia Davis, Livermore High, vocational arts.

Two Irvington High of Fremont students also were winners in their respective study fields.

Two valley students placed second and won $100 in Wednesday's zone competition.

Joan Foote of Livermore was a runnerup in fine arts and Sheryl Athenour of Amador Valley High was runnerup in vocational arts.

Paula Sveen of Granada High placed third and received $75 for her work in vocational arts.

Winners of $50 fourth place awards were Jeffery Wisnom of Livermore High (liberal arts) and Cheryl D. Masoner of Dublin High (vocational arts).

Winners are determined by scholarship, leadership, promise of future success and service to society.

The Young California Building at the County Fairgrounds will be the largest structure at the Fair when completed April 9. Located behind the Amphitheatre and next to the Exhibition Hall, it will not only focus youth activities but (hopefully) indoor tennis courts. Cost of the building, exclusive of architect fees, is $714,717. Contractor is Wallace Webb & Sons of Hayward.

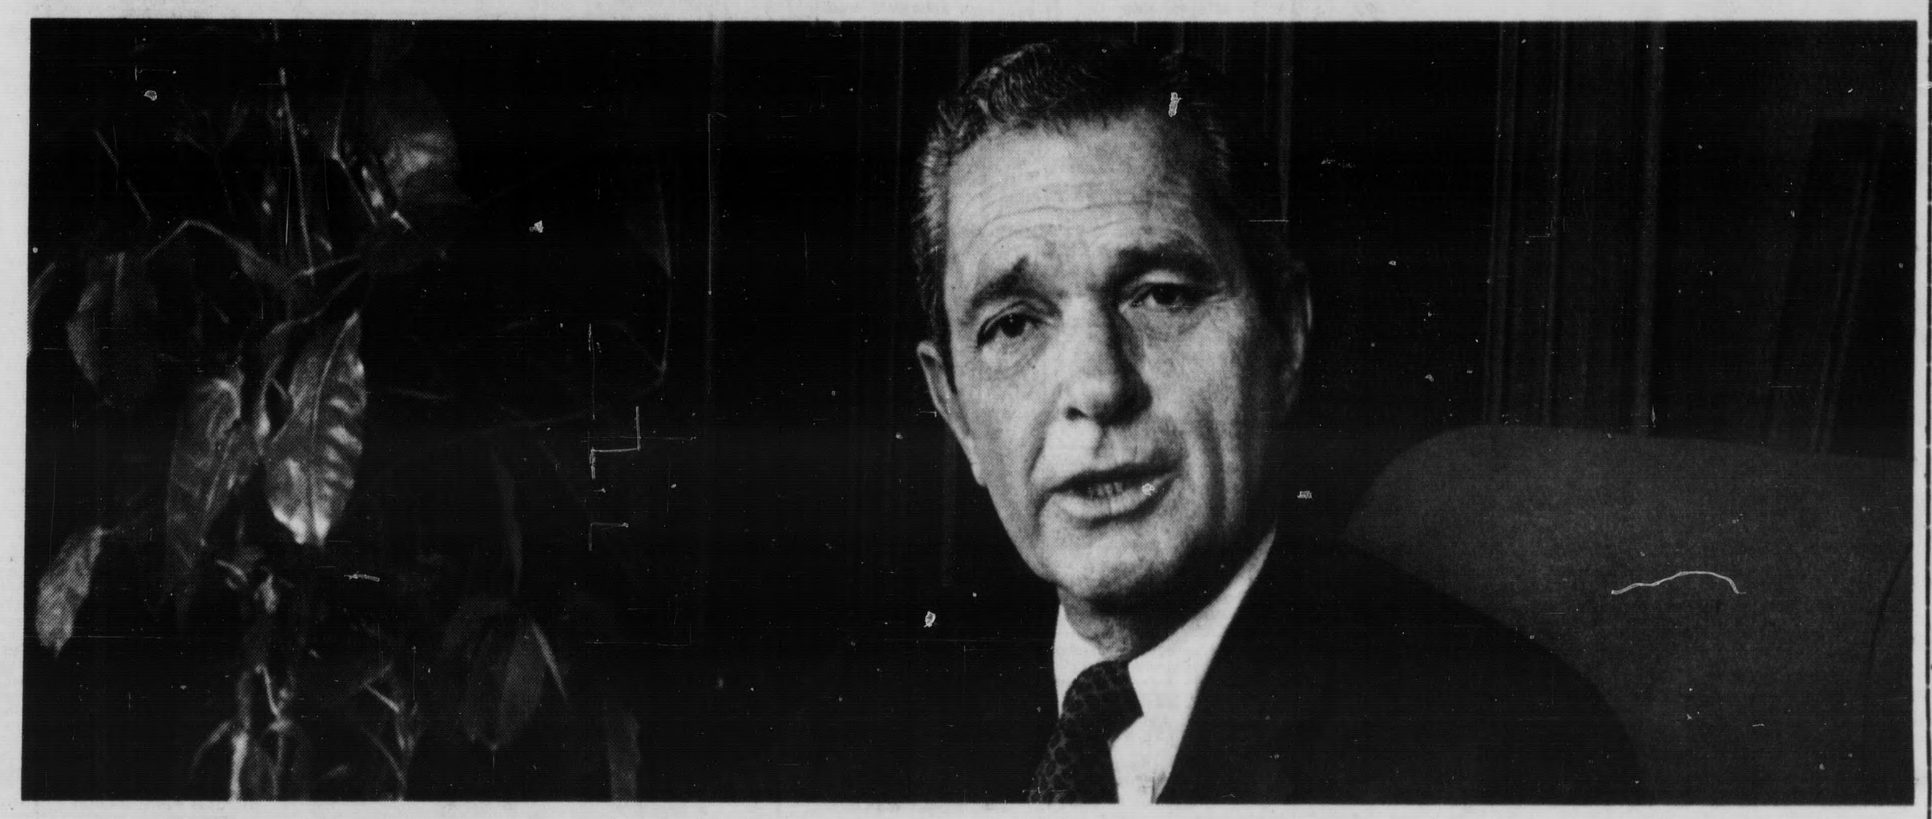
Committee for Parks Development formed

A group of citizens living in the Valley Community Services District has formed a "Committee for Parks Development" (CPD) to promote the upcoming tax rate election in May.

VCSD will be asking for a 39 cent rise in the tax rate, to support parks and recreation. Specifically, the money will be used for the development of the 22 acre Dublin Sports Complex, the 20 acre Athan Downs Park in San Ramon and the 5 acre Boone Park, also in San Ramon.

Funds will also be used to help maintain and support the two swimming pools under VCSD jurisdiction.



Let's hear from you. Crocker's changing banking.

For a long time, the business of banking has been run one way–the bank's way.

But now, we're changing all that. I'm Tom Wilcox, Chairman of the Board of Crocker Bank.

Most people feel that most banks are just too big and too busy to care. And in all too many cases a bank's performances prove that the customer once again is right.

The old joke about "Bankers' Hours" loses its charm after you've run three blocks to find the door already locked.

And a crowded line at a teller's window is a lousy place to spend your lunch hour. Particularly when there are other windows open–but no tellers.

So, Crocker's changing banking. Listening to you and responding–as quickly as possible.

Starting with the problems that we already know bother you. Things like long lines and short hours.

In the weeks and months to come, we'll be changing schedules and procedures whenever and wherever possible. Remolding and revitalizing our ways to fit yours.

We think it's a good idea, a bank that's willing to listen to you for a change.

So, let us hear from you. Just write, Thomas R. Wilcox, Chairman of the Board of Crocker Bank, P.O. Box 38029, San Francisco 94138.

And then come into Crocker and try banking your way for a change.

Crocker's changing banking.

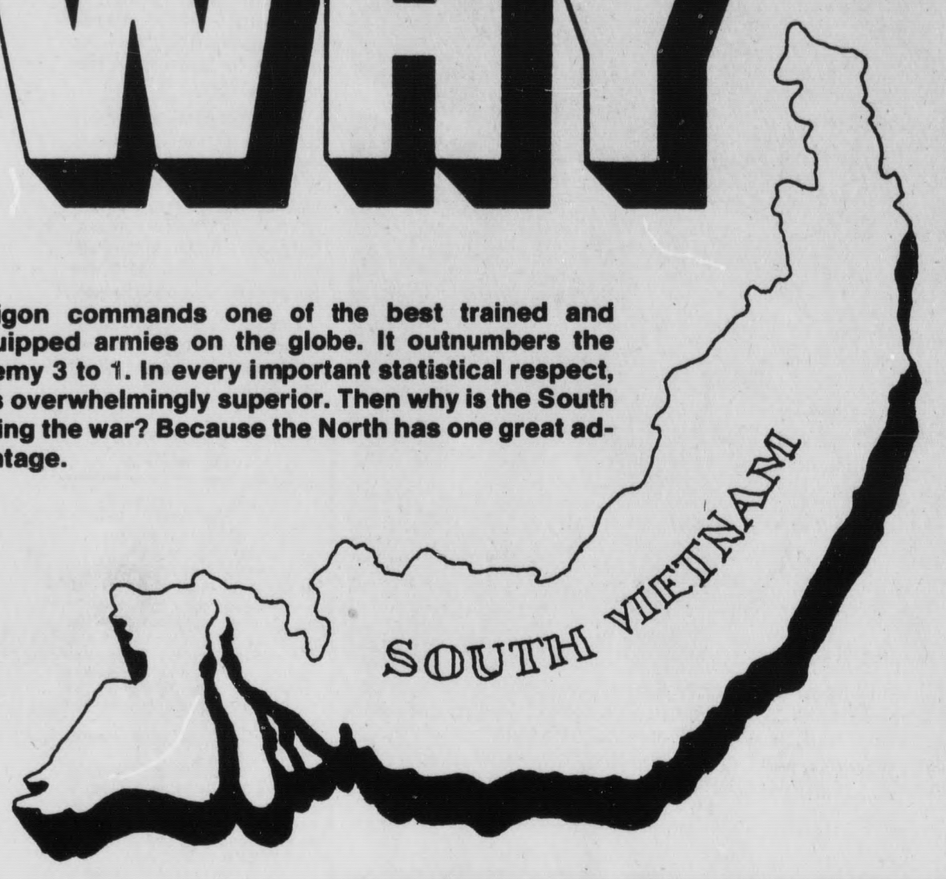
WHY



Saigon commands one of the best trained and equipped armies on the globe. It outnumbers the enemy 3 to 1. In every important statistical respect, it is overwhelmingly superior. Then why is the South losing the war? Because the North has one great advantage.

Why the rabbit is eating the wolf

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Throughout the Vietnam war, there have been periodic rumors that the South would take the fighting into the North. But except for bombing raids by United States pilots and some few secret intelligence trips by teams of mixed allies, the reports have come to nothing. South Vietnamese strategy has been to remain on their duffs and issue regular warnings to the free world that their position is worrisome.

Such thinking is decidedly thin. Seldom in the records of combat has a nation been so reluctantly aggressive to its enemies over so long a period of confrontation. The North truly has chosen the ideal opponent, one whose greatest adversary is itself.

There was, perhaps, a time when the South was incapable of aggressive war. In the early 1960s , burdened by scarcities of troops and equipment, the nation also lacked sophisticated military options.But no more. Though their spirit may still not be willing, their flesh is stong. British military authority Sir Robert Thompson says that some of Saigon's soldiers outclass some of America's, and recently returned U.S. visitors concur that the nation has one of the best trained and equipped armies on the globe.

Sataistically, in fact, the South is capable of overwhelming the North. Paul McCloskey of California, a member of the congressional delegation visiting Southeast Asia last month, says that despite 100,000 newly arrived troops this year from the North, the South still has a 3-1 manpower edge — 980,000 in the South Vietnamese forces vs. a maximum of 356,000 in the NV-Viet Cong aggregate.

Besides this, says McClosky, the South has had as much as a 56 to 1 advantage in tons of ammunition usage; a 12 to 1 superiority in th number of rounds fired (1974); an effective air and naval capability; an economy that last year produced a GNP $1.5 billion larger than the North, and outside assistance of $5.5 billion since 1973 vs. $3.9 billion for the North in the same timeframe.

Finally, in terms of the ultimate measure of warfare, casualties, McClosky says that over the last dozen years the North has lost one million dead and the South "only" 250,000; this last advantage being no small plus among angry nations of roughly equal populations.

Withal, South Vietnam is once again losing the fight, as if it hasn't been all along. The U.S. ambassador there told McCloskey that over the next three years the nation must have $6.5 billion in military and economic aid in order to become "self sufficient."

The fight is a difficult one, the ambassador explained — sneaky enemy, shaky economy, troop ranks spread too thin, etc. — and such is the way in the South's failures have always been explained. In actuality, it's the North that is fighting the most difficult battle, so far as logistics and communications go, but they forever do quite nicely.

One reason the North does do well, you can be sure, is that it pushes the point. McClosky reports "no indication of a slackening of the NV will to reunite Vietnam, nor a lack of patience on their part as to the time required to ultimately previal." Few wars have been won otherwise, a truth that Saigon, to its peril, knows not.

It may be too late by this time for the South to learn about aggressive resolution. McCloskey, as one of a legion, believes northern victory there "almost inevitable." Southern expansion into the North, as example, would at this date be a grave risk. The routes are controlled by the North, there would be no countryside support to greet invaders, and South Vietnamese are lousy guerrillas.

But if the South is not to get a political solution, and if there is any justice in their long struggle (I believe there is), bold measures must be taken. There is no choice. Up to now the South's war has been about 10 per cent action and 90 percent passive suffering. One wishes desperately the percentages would reverse.

Livermore Bicentennial plant sale

LIVERMORE — If you're meeting a friend for lunch, or taking a short break from shopping, or just going to spend a few hours browsing, bring a friend and meet at the Livermore Recreation Center on Friday, April 4.

April 4 is the day for the Bicentennial plant sale which will be going on all day, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and which will benefit the Livermore Bicentennial Organization.

The old victory gardens evolved into organic gardens which are now evolving into Bicentennial gardens which may evolve into community gardens!

Lending a helping hand to make the LBO plant sale a success are Louise Staab, Margaret Roemer, Safeway, LARPD, The Emperor's Garden and Thrifty Stores.

One of the plants to be raffled off will be a donation from the Kungya Springs Trading Post in Fremont.

The plant sale will include many small plants for gift giving. There will be an opportunity to win plants and some Bicentennial mementos, such as greeting cards, lapel pins, decals, and flags will be available for purchase.

Those who would like to donate their services, plants, or other garden items, can call 447-9352.

First mate of Golden Hinde talks

The first mate of the Golden Hinde II will recount the story of a modern day 13,000 mile voyage in an Elizabethan warship from Plymouth, England, to San Francisco to students at four valley schools next week.

The personal appearance by first mate Christopher Daniel is part of a special lecture series by Golden Hinde II crew members for groups and organizations in the area, sponsored by Eureka Federal Savings in Danville. The lecture series ends April 11.

On Wednesday, April 2, Daniel will appear at the Walt Disney School in San Ramon at 9 a.m., followed by two other appearances at schools in Alamo.

On Thursday, April 3, first mate Daniel, who is also a curator and lecturer at the National Maritime Museum at Greenwich, England, will visit Amador Valley, Foothill and Dublin high schools.

The Golden Hinde II set sail last September from Plymouth and reached port in San Francisco on March 8, re-creating Drake's voyage of 1577-1579 and his discovery and claim of New Albion (Northern California) for the British Crown.

The modern Golden Hinde is a full scale replica of Sir Francis Drake's legendary ship.
